Trajectory

The brand system for the rebranded Khalda academy (Success4Sure).
Everything here works before the name and logo exist. Where they will go, this book shows a dashed placeholder and the rules any future logo must follow.

01

Brand foundation

Who we are, what we stand for and how we sound. Every design decision in this book comes from this page.

PURPOSE

Turn ambition into a measured plan

We help students in Amman reach the scores and universities they are aiming for, with a clear path they and their parents can follow week by week.

POSITIONING

The academic partner between school and a global university

For ambitious students preparing for AP, EST, SAT and international programmes, and for the parents investing in them, [Name] turns a target score into a measured plan, taught to international standards.

THE IDEA BEHIND TRAJECTORY

Every student starts from a baseline and is heading to a target. The brand is built on the line between the two: it always rises, it can have milestones along the way, and it always ends in one amber point, the result. The line expresses our method: diagnostic test → personal plan → mock exams → score report.

PERSONALITY

- Confident, never arrogant
- Precise, never cold
- Ambitious, never pressuring
- Modern, never trendy

VALUES

- Clarity. Everyone knows where they stand.
- Rigour. International standards, no shortcuts.
- Belief. High expectations, held with warmth.
- Progress. Growth is measured and shown.
- Integrity. Honest targets, honest timelines.

AUDIENCES

- Students, 14–18: want a clear goal, smart help and something they are proud to follow.
- Parents: want structure, proof and regular, honest updates.

TONE OF VOICE

English

Short, specific, encouraging.
Lead with the plan or the number. Use exam names exactly (AP Calculus BC, EST II Math, SAT).

Arabic for parents

Clear Modern Standard Arabic.
Calm and respectful. Explain the plan and how progress is reported.

Arabic for students

Natural Jordanian Arabic on social media. Friendly, direct, never slang-heavy.

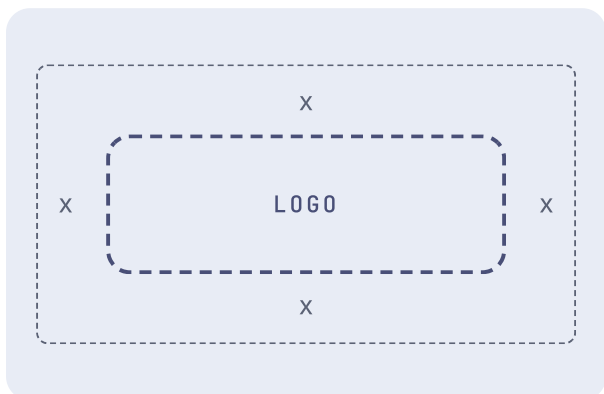

INSTEAD OF	WRITE
"Guaranteed top scores!!! 🚀🔥"	"Your target: 1450. Your plan: 10 weeks, 4 full mocks, a score report every Thursday."
"The best academy in Jordan"	"Small groups, international materials, and a progress report parents can read in two minutes."
!!أقوى أكاديمية بالأردن	خطة أسبوعية واضحة، امتحانات تجريبية، وتقرير دوري للأهل.

02

Name and logo space

The name and logo are not decided yet. These rules reserve their place so every layout made today will accept them without redesign.

LOGO ZONE

- Clear space: on every side, at least x = the height of the logo's symbol (or of the capital letters if the logo is a wordmark only).
- Placement: bottom-left on English layouts, bottom-right on Arabic layouts, top-left on documents and letterhead.
- The logo is never the largest element on social posts and ads. The message is.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE FUTURE LOGO

- Lockups: horizontal, stacked, and symbol-only (for the profile picture and app icon).
- Bilingual: an Arabic version drawn to match, with equal presence on signage.
- Minimum size: symbol 24 px / 8 mm; full lockup 96 px / 25 mm wide.
- Colour versions: full colour on Paper, reversed (Paper) on Indigo, one-colour Indigo, one-colour black for stamps and forms.
- Fits the system: geometric construction, rounded ends matching the trajectory line, no gradients, no graduation caps or globes.
- Name in running text: written in full in the body font, never in the logo font, never in capitals unless the name itself is an acronym.

Colour

Indigo carries trust, Clear Blue carries energy, Paper gives space, and Amber appears only when something is achieved.

PRIMARY

Midnight Indigo

HEX #141B4D
RGB 20 27 77
CMYK 74 65 0 70

Headlines, backgrounds of key moments, text. The colour of trust and seriousness.

PRIMARY

Clear Blue

HEX #2F6BFF
RGB 47 107 255
CMYK 82 58 0 0

The trajectory line, programme tags, links, large headlines. The modern, digital energy.

ACCENT

Sunrise Amber

HEX #FFB020
RGB 255 176 32
CMYK 0 31 87 0

Results, targets, the end point of the line, the main call to action. Never decoration.

SECONDARY

Paper

HEX #F6F4EF
RGB 246 244 239
CMYK 0 1 3 4

Main background for documents, posts and reports.

SECONDARY

Mist

HEX #E8ECF5
RGB 232 236 245
CMYK 5 4 0 4

Panels, tables, form fields, quiet backgrounds.

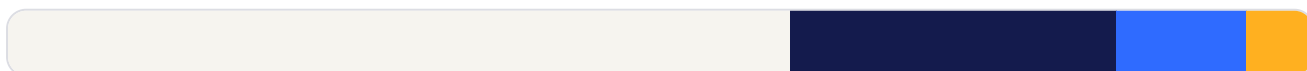

SECONDARY

Slate

HEX #5B6275
RGB 91 98 117
CMYK 22 16 0 54

Body text, captions, secondary information.

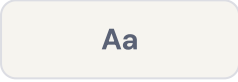

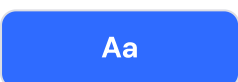

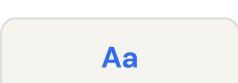

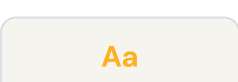

COLOUR BALANCE ON EVERY LAYOUT

60% Paper or Mist • 25% Indigo • 10% Clear Blue • 5% Amber. On dark layouts swap Paper and Indigo; Amber stays at 5% or less.

Accessible combinations

Contrast measured with the WCAG 2.1 formula. AA needs 4.5:1 for body text and 3:1 for large text (24 px+, or 19 px+ bold).

SAMPLE	TEXT ON BACKGROUND	RATIO	USE
	Indigo on Paper	14.8 : 1	Any text
	Paper on Indigo	14.8 : 1	Any text
	Indigo on Amber	8.9 : 1	Any text (buttons, result badges)
	Slate on Paper	5.5 : 1	Body text and captions
	White on Clear Blue	4.5 : 1	Body text (just passes); prefer bold
	Clear Blue on Paper	4.1 : 1	Large text and links only
	Clear Blue on Indigo	3.6 : 1	Large text and graphics only
	Amber on Paper	1.7 : 1	Never for text

CMYK values are converted from screen colour. Before printing, match each colour to a Pantone reference and approve a printed proof.

BILINGUAL RULES

- Arabic headlines at about 90% of the English size, with line height 1.4–1.5 (Arabic needs more vertical room).
- Arabic body at line height 1.8.
- Arabic layouts are mirrored: text, logo zone and the trajectory line all run right to left.
- Exam names stay in Latin script inside Arabic text: SAT, EST II, AP.
- Use Arabic–Indic digits (١٢٣) in Arabic-only designs and Western digits (123) for scores in bilingual designs, so numbers match the official score reports.

FALLBACKS AND DON'TS

- In Word, PowerPoint and email, where brand fonts may be missing: Arial for English and Tahoma for Arabic.
- No more than two weights per layout per language.
- No italics in Arabic, no outline or shadow effects on any text.
- Never set long paragraphs in Sora or Alexandria; they are for headlines.
- Never centre body text longer than three lines.

05

Graphic language

A small set of elements, used with discipline. The trajectory line is the signature; everything else supports it.

THE TRAJECTORY LINE

- Direction: always rises, left to right in English and right to left in Arabic. It never descends overall.
- Angle: overall rise between 15° and 35°.
- Weight: stroke = 0.6–0.8% of the layout width (7–8 px on a 1080 px post). Round ends and joins.
- End point: one Amber circle, diameter 3× the stroke.
- Milestones: up to 3 hollow circles at bends, for weeks, mocks or stages.
- Frequency: one line per layout. It may cross slides in a carousel as one continuous line.

SOFT SQUARE

Corner radius = 22% of the side. Used for photo frames, number tiles, buttons and the future app icon.

SCORE-SCALE PATTERN

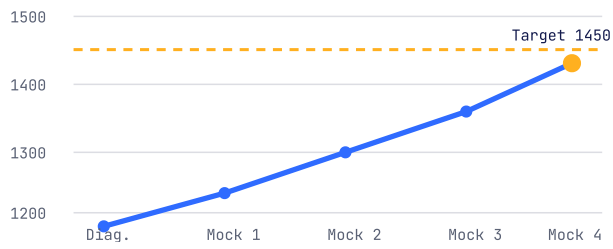

Thin tick marks taken from real score scales (SAT 400–1600, AP 1–5, EST). Background texture at 15–25% opacity, never behind body text.

ICONS

24 px grid, 2 px stroke, round ends, Indigo. Filled with Clear Blue only when active or selected. No 3D or emoji icons.

CHARTS AND PROGRESS

- Scores in Clear Blue; the target as a dashed Amber line; the latest result as an Amber point.
- Light grid, labels in Slate, no 3D or shadows.
- Every chart shows its scale and dates, so parents read it without explanation.
- Example values only.

Photography

Real people, real study, real light. Photography shows the warmth that the colour palette alone cannot.

SUBJECTS

- Students concentrating, mid-problem
- Tutors explaining at the board or beside a student
- Hands on a mock paper, a timer, a marked test
- Results moments: opening a score report, an offer letter
- The branch: clean rooms, study corners, the entrance

LOOK

- Soft natural window light from one side
- Shallow depth of field; one clear subject
- Warm skin tones, slightly cool indigo shadows
- Space left on one side for headline and the line
- Eye level or slightly below, which makes students look capable

RULES

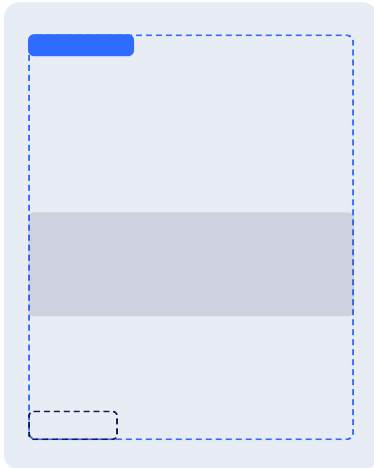

- Our own photos of the Khalda branch. No stock people.
- Written parental consent for every student under 18, stored with the file.
- Modest, natural styling that respects families.
- On dark layouts, photos sit under a 60% Indigo overlay.
- Never: flash, heavy filters, fake classrooms, posed thumbs-up.

07

Layout and grids

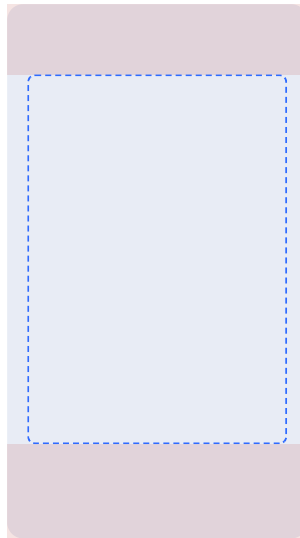

Generous margins and one clear hierarchy: message, proof, action. The logo zone and programme tag always sit in the same places.

REELS, STORIES, HIGHLIGHTS

1. Tip · Indigo, one sentence, programme tag
2. Mistake carousel · Paper, numbered slides, line runs across
3. Result · photo with Indigo overlay, line ends at the score (only with consent and proof)
4. Quote · student or parent words, Paper background, Slate attribution
5. Announcement · intake dates, Clear Blue panel, Amber button
6. Life at the academy · full photo, small tag, no headline

- Reels: hook in 2 seconds, captions burned in with DM Sans Bold on an Indigo bar, end card with the line drawing upward into the logo zone.
- Stories: Paper or Indigo backgrounds, one message, polls and quizzes styled with brand colours.
- Highlights: Programmes · Results · Schedule · Tutors · Location. Indigo covers with one line icon each.
- Grid rhythm: alternate photo, Indigo and Paper posts so no colour repeats three times in a row.
- Captions: first line states the value, emojis at most one per post, Arabic and English as separate paragraphs.

09

Advertising

One message, one programme, one action. Ads talk to parents and students differently but always look like the same brand.

الشعار

- Hierarchy: headline → proof → action. The logo is always visible, never dominant.
- Proof: any number in an ad (scores, averages, offers) must be documented before the ad runs.
- Campaigns: one master design per intake (summer, winter, before each exam date), adapted to feed, story, reel and Google display.
- Call to action: always Amber, always one action: book a placement test, call, or message on WhatsApp.

Print and stationery

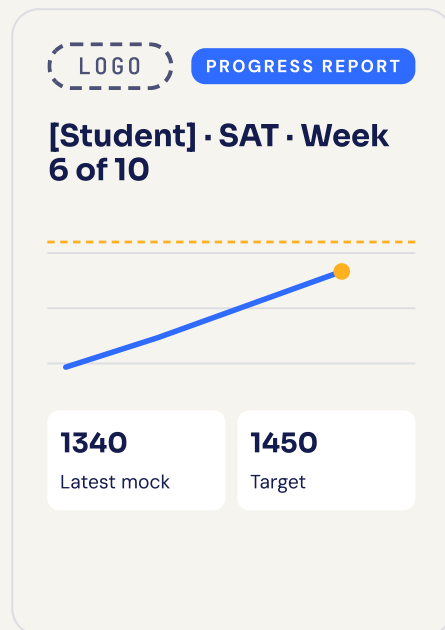

Print is where parents meet the brand at home. It should feel as considered as a university letter.

Business card · 85×55 mm ·
400 gsm uncoated

Letterhead · A4 · 120 gsm ·
Arabic version mirrored

Parent progress report · A4

Mock-exam booklets

Indigo cover with the score-scale pattern; the programme name in Sora; colour band per programme (SAT Clear Blue, EST Indigo tint 60%, AP Slate).

Certificates

Paper stock, Indigo text, a single Amber point at the end of a long line across the bottom: the student's completed path.

Merchandise

Notebooks, pencils, tote bags: the future symbol alone, or the trajectory line, one colour. Things students actually use.

11

Signage and spaces

The branch should feel like a calm, organised place of study from the street to the classroom door.

LOGO (ENGLISH)

الشعار (عربي)

Exterior fascia: Indigo panel, Arabic and English at equal size, back-lit letters only

Exterior

- Indigo fascia, Paper lettering, lit at night
- Window band in frosted vinyl with the trajectory line, for privacy
- Check Greater Amman Municipality signage rules before production

Reception

- Indigo feature wall with the line running across it and the logo zone at its end
- The positioning line in both languages
- A results wall updated every exam season, with consent

Wayfinding

- Door signs: soft-square plates, room number in Sora, Arabic and English
- Same icon set as social media
- Weekly schedules in branded frames by each classroom

12

Do's and don'ts

The quickest check before anything is published or printed.

Do

- Keep one message and lots of space per layout
- Use the trajectory line once, always rising, ending in Amber
- Keep Amber for results and the main action
- Use real photos of the Khalda branch with consent
- Design Arabic layouts natively, right to left
- Check every number before it is published
- Leave the logo zone empty until the logo exists

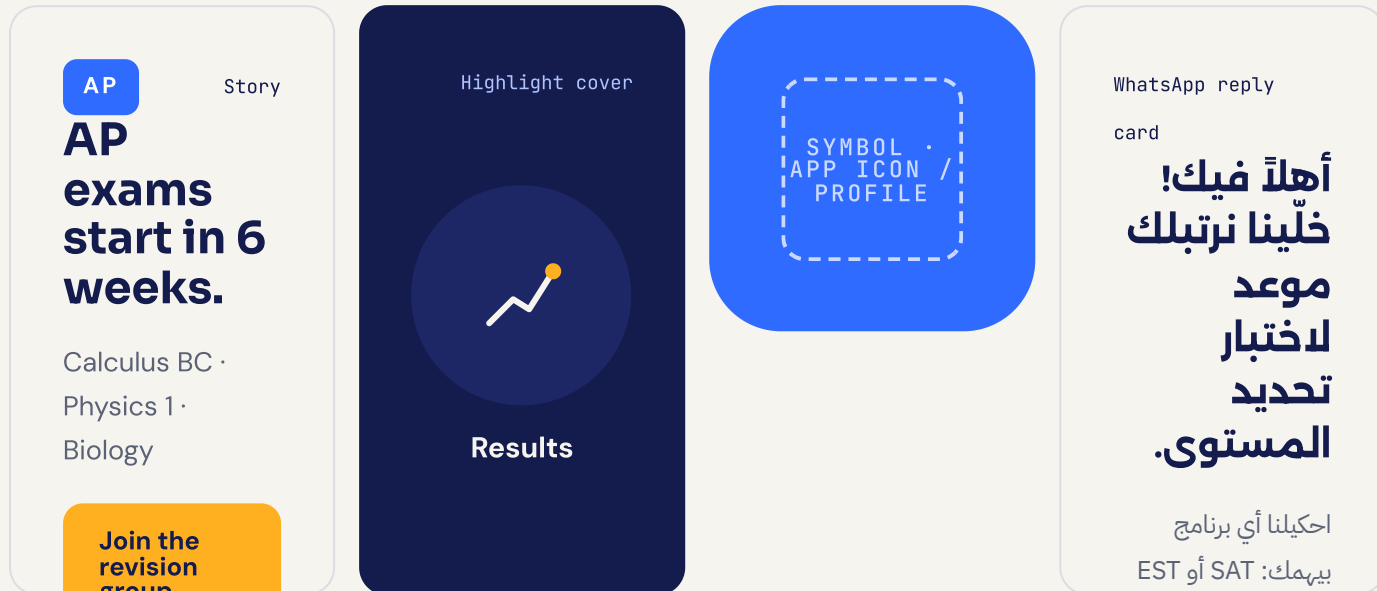

Don't

- Use graduation caps, globes, rockets, light bulbs or book stacks
- Make the line go down, zig-zag sharply, or end in an arrow
- Use Amber for text on light backgrounds (1.7:1 contrast)
- Use Clear Blue for small body text on Paper
- Add gradients, glows, shadows or 3D to text or the line
- Use stock photos, cartoons or more than one emoji per post
- Promise guaranteed scores or exaggerate results

13

Applications

How the system comes together across touchpoints. Every example keeps the name and logo as placeholders.

TOUCHPOINT	HOW TRAJECTORY APPLIES
Instagram profile picture	Future symbol in a soft square, Clear Blue background
Results posts	Photo with Indigo overlay; line from baseline score to final score, Amber point on the result
Carousels	One continuous line across all slides, a milestone on each slide
Reel end card	Line draws upward in 1 second and stops at the logo zone
Parent progress report	One-page chart: scores in Blue, target as dashed Amber, latest result as the Amber point
Website and booking page	Paper background, Indigo headers, Amber "Book a placement test" button
Classroom	Whiteboard wall with the score-scale pattern along the top edge
Uniform for staff	Indigo polo or lanyard, symbol on the chest, no slogans

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN THE NAME AND LOGO ARRIVE

1. The logo is designed to the requirements in chapter 02, using the trajectory line's construction where it fits the name.
2. Every dashed placeholder in this book and in the templates is replaced; layouts do not change.
3. Colours are matched to Pantone and proofed in print.
4. Version 1.0 of these guidelines is issued with final mock-ups and editable templates.

Prepared by Logic Loop (Sara, Brand & Design) for the Khalda academy. Version 0.1, draft for internal review. Sample scores, names and dates in this book are illustrations, not real results.
